Amendment of regulation 2 of the Regulations

3. The Regulations are amended in regulation 2 by —
- (a) inserting in their correct alphabetical order, the following new definitions —
- “airworthy” means the status of an aircraft, engine, propeller or a part that conforms to its approved design, and is in a condition for safe operation;
 - “AOC” means Air Operator Certificate;
 - “appropriate airworthiness requirements” means the comprehensive and detailed airworthiness codes established, adopted or accepted by a contracting state for the class of aircraft, engine or propeller under consideration;
 - “certificate of release to service” means a document which contains a certification confirming that the maintenance work to which it relates has been completed in a satisfactory manner in accordance with appropriate airworthiness requirements;
 - “contracting state” means a state that is signatory to the Convention on International Civil Aviation (Chicago Convention);
 - “engine” means a unit used or intended to be used for aircraft propulsion, and it consists of at least components and equipment necessary for functioning and control, but excludes the propeller or rotors (where applicable);
 - “human performance” means human capabilities and limitations which have an impact on the safety and efficiency of aeronautical operations;
 - “maintenance organisation’s procedures manual” means a document endorsed by the head of the maintenance organisation which details the maintenance organisation’s structure and management responsibilities, scope of work, description of facilities, maintenance procedures and quality assurance or inspection systems;
 - “maintenance records” means a record which sets out the details of the maintenance carried out on an aircraft, engine, propeller or associated part;
 - “major modification” means a change in the type design that has an appreciable effect other than a negligible effect, on the mass and balance limits, structural strength, engine operation, flight characteristics, reliability, operational characteristics, or other characteristics or qualities affecting the airworthiness or environmental characteristics of an aeronautical product;
 - “operations specifications” means a document describing the ratings in detail and containing or referencing material and process specifications used in performing repair work, along with any limitations applied to the maintenance organisation;
 - “repair” means the restoration of an aircraft, engine, propeller or associated part to an airworthy condition, in accordance with the appropriate airworthiness requirements, after it has been damaged or subjected to wear;
 - “state of design” means the state having jurisdiction over the organisation responsible for the type design;
 - “state of manufacture” means the state having jurisdiction over the organisation responsible for the final assembly of the aircraft, engine or propeller; and
 - “state of registry” means the state on whose register the aircraft is entered;

- (b) substituting for the definition of “maintenance” the following new definition —
 ““maintenance” means the performance of tasks on an aircraft, engine, propeller or associated part required to ensure the continuing airworthiness of an aircraft engine, propeller or associated part including any one or combination of overhaul, inspection, replacement, defect rectification and the embodiment of a modification or repair.”;
- (c) deleting the definition of “maintenance procedures manual”;
- (d) deleting the definition of “maintenance release certificate”;
- (e) substituting for the definition of “major repair” the following new definition —
 ““major repair” means any repair of an aeronautical product that might appreciably affect the structural strength, performance, engine, operation flight characteristics or other qualities affecting airworthiness or environmental characteristics.”;
- (f) substituting for the definition of “modification” the following new definition — ““modification” means a change to the type design of an aircraft, engine or propeller, which may include the embodiment of the modification which is a maintenance task subject to a maintenance release.”;
- (g) substituting for the definition of “power plant” the following new definition — ““power plant” means a system consisting of all the engines, drive system components (if applicable), and propellers (if installed), their accessories, ancillary parts, and fuel and oil systems installed on an aircraft but excluding the rotors for a helicopter.”; and
- (h) substituting for the definition of “technical standard order” the following new definition —
 ““technical standard order (TSO)” means a minimum performance standard issued by the Administrator (United States Federal Aviation Administration) for specified materials, parts, processes and appliances used on civil aircrafts flown and approved for operation.”.
